

1. A picture story

.../20

Look at the pictures and write your story on the extra piece of paper.

Bild 1

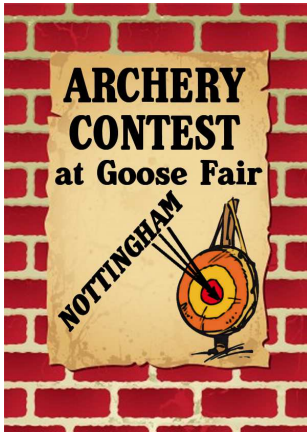

Bild 2

Bild 3

Robin trifft im Wald auf Jäger

Bild 4

Die Jäger fragen Robin, wo er hin will. Er erzählt, dass er zum Archery Contest möchte. Sie machen sich über ihn lustig:

Bild 5

Einer der Jäger zeigt auf einen weit entfernten Hirsch

Ha, ha!
Can you shoot?

Bild 6

Robin hat auf den Hirschen geschossen und getroffen. Die Jäger rufen:

Bild 7

Robin rennt davon und die Jäger rufen:

The King's deer!

Stop him!

Vocabulary

1. Fill in the gaps.

.../8

The Tales of Robin Hood is a great visitor _____ in Nottingham and it is only a _____ walk away from the castle. Here you can _____ the sights, sounds and smells of Nottingham in the late _____ and you can help Robin Hood to fight his _____. It's a dangerous _____, because the Sheriff and his men try to chase you. But don't _____, Robin and his Merry Men _____ you.

2. Word power. Explain the following words

.../6

- to describe _____
- trap _____
- popular _____

3. Find other words for

.../3

- the centre of the target _____
- very, very hungry _____
- at last _____

Grammar

1. Compare. What does the Sheriff tell you?

.../12

- I'm – important man – in Nottingham

- We Normans – rich – Saxons

- I'm – never – happy – when I've got a lot of money in my hands

- I – make the Saxons' life – much – bad

- The Saxons – helpless – babies

- Don't forget – it's – good – to be my friend – my enemy

2. Relative clauses and contact clauses .../6
Make relative clauses. Begin with the underlined words.

- Robin Hood is a famous outlaw. You can find his statue in the park of the castle.

- The Tales of Robin Hood is an attraction. It invites visitors into the past.

- Robin Hood was an outlaw. He lived in Sherwood Forest.

3. Complete the sentences with a relative pronoun where necessary. .../4

The competition _____ Sir Guy of Gisborne organized was a very important competition in Nottingham.

Maid Marian _____ was sitting next to the Sheriff looked scared.

The target _____ Robin Hood had to shoot at was far away.

The people _____ picked Robin up were Saxons.

4. Error spotting / Find the mistakes and correct them. .../4

- He caught the ball bevor it hitted the floor.

- Hundred of people cheerd: "The Saxon is the winner!"

- Our last school day is on the 23th of Dezember.

- Than everybody is lucky.

5. Adjectives

.../13

There are pupils who aren't interested in Drama. Kim, Carina and Marc are standing in front of the Activity Board and they are having a discussion about what to choose this school year.

Fill in comparative, superlative or comparison only!

Marc: Let's look at the _____ (new) information.

Well, what about some sport?

Kim: I can't play basketball, I'm not tall enough.

Carina: But you are _____ (tall) than me and I'm sure you play _____ (good) than many other girls, because you aren't _____ (lazy) they are.

You love running, don't you?

Marc: Me, too. I'm the _____ (small) in my class, but I'm also the _____ (brave) player: I always score many baskets because I can run much

_____ (fast) than the other boys.

Kim: Oh, Marc, be quiet. You are even _____ (terrible) than your older brother! And you are also _____ (boring) he is.

Carina: Stop it. Shouting is the _____ (bad) thing you can do. Well, what about reading? I think reading is _____ (interesting) than playing games.

Kim: You are right! There isn't anything _____

(funny) than reading stories, especially love stories. They are the _____ (exciting) stories I know.

In the end, Kim and Carina want to go to the bookworms' meeting, but Marc prefers the basketball team

1. A picture story

.../20

Look at the pictures and write your story on the extra piece of paper.

Bild 1

Bild 2

Bild 3

Robin trifft im Wald auf Jäger

Bild 4

Die Jäger fragen Robin, wo er hin will. Er erzählt, dass er zum Archery Contest möchte. Sie machen sich über ihn lustig:

Bild 5

Einer der Jäger zeigt auf einen weit entfernten Hirsch

Ha, ha!
Can you shoot?

Bild 6

Robin hat auf den Hirschen geschossen und getroffen. Die Jäger rufen:

Bild 7

Robin rennt davon und die Jäger rufen:

The King's deer!

Stop him!

When Robin was young he lived near Sherwood Forest. His father was one of the King's Foresters and Robin learned to shoot well. One day he heard about an archery contest and decided to go to Nottingham where the competition was. He wanted to take part in it. While he was walking through the forest suddenly he heard voices. He hid behind a tree, but the Sheriff's men saw him and caught him. One of them asked him: "What are you doing here, boy?" Robin didn't show the men that he was frightened and answered: "I'm going to Nottingham to take part in the archery contest. "Ha, ha! A baby and an archery contest! Are you silly? Can you shoot?", they laughed at him. Then another man asked Robin to shoot a deer far away from them. So Robin traced his arch (spannte seinen Bogen) and shot the deer and hit it. Now the men were shocked. "The King's deer, the King's deer!", they cried and ran after Robin. But the boy was too fast and they couldn't follow him. At the end he escaped them.

Vocabulary

1. Fill in the gaps. .../8

The Tales of Robin Hood is a great visitor attraction in Nottingham and it is only a two-minute walk away from the castle. Here you can experience the sights, sounds and smells of Nottingham in the late 1100s and you can help Robin Hood to fight his enemy. It's a dangerous adventure, because the Sheriff and his men try to chase you. But don't worry, Robin and his Merry Men protect you.

2. Word power. Explain the following words .../6

- to describe To explain something to somebody
- trap If you want to catch a mouse you need a mouse trap / something used to catch animals
- popular Good marks are more popular than bad marks / liked by many people

3. Find other words for .../3

- the centre of the target bull's-eye
- very, very hungry as hungry as a horse
- at last finally

Grammar

1. Compare. What does the Sheriff tell you? .../12

- I'm – important man – in Nottingham
I'm the most important man in Nottingham.
- We Normans – rich – Saxons
We Normans are richer than the Saxons.
- I'm – never – happy – when I've got a lot of money in my hands
I'm never happier than when I've got a lot of money in my hands.
- I – make the Saxons' life – much – bad
I make the Saxons' life much worse.
- The Saxons – helpless – babies
The Saxons are as helpless as babies.
- Don't forget – it's – good – to be my friend – my enemy
Don't forget it's better to be my friend than my enemy.

2. Relative clauses and contact clauses .../6

Make relative clauses. Begin with the underlined words.

- Robin Hood is a famous outlaw. You can find his statue in the park of the castle.
Robin Hood whose statue you can find in the park of the castle is a famous outlaw.
- The Tales of Robin Hood is an attraction. It invites visitors into the past.
An attraction which invites visitors into the past is the 'Tales of Robin Hood'.
- Robin Hood was an outlaw. He lived in Sherwood Forest.
Robin Hood who lived in Sherwood Forest was an outlaw.

3. Complete the sentences with a relative pronoun where necessary. .../4

The competition ----- Sir Guy of Gisborne organized was a very important competition in Nottingham.

Maid Marian who was sitting next to the Sheriff looked scared.

The target --- Robin Hood had to shoot at was far away.

The people who picked Robin up were Saxons.

(Hinweis: 1. und 3. Zeile: We leave out the relative pronoun (who/which/that) if it is not the subject in the sentence.)

4. Error spotting / Find the mistakes and correct them. .../4

- He catched the ball bevor it hitted the floor.
He caught the ball before it hit the floor.
- Hundred of people cheerd: "The Saxon is the winner!"
Hundreds of people cheered
- Our last school day is on the 23th of Dezember.
Our last school day is on the 23rd December.
- Than everybody is lucky.
Then everybody is happy.

5. Adjectives .../13

There are pupils who aren't interested in Drama. Kim, Carina and Marc are standing in front of the Activity Board and they are having a discussion about what to choose this school year.

Fill in comparative, superlative or comparison only!

Marc: Let's look at the newest (new) information. Well, what about some sport?

Kim: I can't play basketball, I'm not tall enough.

Carina: But you are taller (tall) than me and I'm sure you play better (good) than many other girls, because you aren't as lazy as (lazy) they are. You love running, don't you?

Marc: Me, too. I'm the smallest (small) in my class, but I'm also the bravest (brave) player: I always score many baskets because I can run much faster (fast) than the other boys.

Kim: Oh, Marc, be quiet. You are even more terrible (terrible) than your older brother! And you are also as boring as (boring) he is.

Carina: Stop it. Shouting is the worst (bad) thing you can do. Well, what about reading? I think reading is more interesting (interesting) than playing games.

Kim: You are right! There isn't anything funnier (funny) than reading stories, especially love stories. They are the most exciting (exciting) stories I know.

In the end, Kim and Carina want to go to the bookworms' meeting, but Marc prefers the basketball team

Du bist in Nottingham und schreibst deinem englischen Brieffreund/deiner englischen Brieffreundin eine E-Mail über Nottingham und Robin Hood. Natürlich schreibst du die E-Mail auf Englisch und du begrüßt und verabschiedest deinen Brieffreund / deine Brieffreundin.

.../13

Robin Hood: der berühmteste Vogelfreie Großbritanniens, lebte im Wald, konnte sich dort besser vor seinem schlimmsten Feind: dem Sheriff von Nottingham, einem Normannen aus Frankreich, der reicher als die Sachsen war, verstecken.

Schreibe noch 3 weitere Dinge, die du über Robin Hood, den Sheriff oder Nottingham weißt!

Hi Sheila,

Thank you for your last email. How are you? I´m fine.

These days I´m in Nottingham and it´ s fantastic here! You know I´m very interested in Robin Hood who is the most famous outlaw of Great Britain. He lived in Sherwood Forest because he could hide there from his worst enemy, the Sheriff of Nottingham who was a Norman from France. The Sheriff was richer than the Saxons and he wanted to catch Robin Hood.

Robin Hood stole money from the rich and gave it to the poor. His father learned him how to shoot with a bow and an arrow and he could shoot very well. He often was in disguise so the Sheriff of Nottingham didn´t realize him. It was very interesting and exciting.

I hope I will get an email from you soon and I´ m waiting for it!

Yours friend